

My Pet Blobfish is the Key to My Heart

Written by Ataiva R.

I have a pet. He is a blobfish. My blobfish name is Squishy. Sometimes we go snorkeling with my grandpa. One day when we were snorkeling, squishy found a gold coin. Then he found more and more and lots more gold coins. We found so many gold coins that we called my little brother and my dad to ask him to come over to look at the coins. When they got here they took a look at the gold coins and said that the coins were really old and they could be priceless! My grandpa, Squishy, and I were so amazed that we started laughing. After 5 minutes we stopped laughing and got into the car to show our friend that works at the Museum but the car wouldn't start! My grandpa got out of the car and lifted up the hood of the car. For a second my grandpa just stared at the motor. Then he started laughing. I jumped out of the car and I looked at the motor. There was a note that said "Happy April 1st! Xoxoxo Squishy" There under the hood was the key to my heart.
